

TOP COURSES OFFERED IN CANADA

PRESENTED BY

HIGH DEMAND COURSES

As a first step towards selecting universities or colleges to apply to, students must know what course they would like to take. It is important to choose a subject that one is interested in and which will eventually lead to employment.

Canadian universities offer a number of fields of study ranging from Arts, Languages, History as well as Management and Engineering. Listed below are some of the popular courses for International Students.

1. Arts

Arts are a big part of the Canadian cultural life. It has an interesting history and legacy in the field of Art. The large and diverse immigration which has taken place over the years, especially from Europe, laid the foundation for Art, which includes painting, sculpture, photography, film and design. Therefore, the cultural and artistic life assimilates many interesting styles which are still present in the larger cities of Canada.

There are many universities and art institutes in Canada offering a number of art degrees combining theoretical lectures with practical exercises and visits to important artistic landmarks. Some of the courses available under this program include:

- Art & Design
- Art History
- Arts Management
- Art History & Visual Culture
- Film Production
- Film Studies
- Media Studies

The Top Universities where you can study Arts are:

- University of Alberta
- University of Toronto
- University of Calgary
- McMaster University
- University of British Columbia
- McGill University
- University of Waterloo
- York University

Some other Universities that can be considered are:

- University of Ottawa
- Emily Carr University of Art & Design
- Concordia University

2. Medicine

Canada's healthcare system has been highly rated globally. Canada has received praise for its focus on prevention and primary care. The Medical Schools focus a lot on research. If you are looking to study medicine, Canada is the best place for it. Canada offers the following specializations:

- Biological Sciences
- Pharmacy
- Nursing
- Medicine & Dentistry

The top Universities in Canada to study Medicine are:

- University of British Columbia
- University of Toronto
- McGill University
- McMaster University
- University of Alberta
- University of Calgary
- University of Waterloo
- Queen's University

Other Universities that can also be considered are:

- University of Manitoba
- University of the Fraser Valley
- Trinity Western University

3. Engineering & Technology

Engineering is one of the most popular courses selected by international students. Major economic sectors such as infrastructure, construction and transportation are booming, therefore, creating employment demand. Specializations in Engineering and Technology include:

- Systems Engineering
- Electrical & Computer Engineering
- Electrical Engineering
- Industrial Engineering
- Materials Engineering
- Minerals Engineering
- Geomatics Engineering
- Cognitive Systems
- Data Science
- Biomedical Engineering

There are a number of career opportunities for those graduating in Engineering and Technology.

The top Universities in Canada for studying Engineering and Technology include:

- University of Toronto
- University of British Columbia
- University of Calgary
- University of Alberta

- McGill University
- McMaster University
- University of Waterloo
- Queen's University

Other Universities that can be considered are:

- University of Ottawa
- Carleton University
- University of Western Ontario

4. Environmental Science

Environmental Science is becoming more and more popular with the focus on the climate crisis. These programs train students on how to approach and solve environmental problems with the help of ecosystem ecology policies, and ethical considerations. Environmental Science programs are based on experience-based learning so students will get to see and experience first-hand the impact of human activity on the global environment through the research and on-site projects.

Specializations under Environmental Science include:

- Environmental Earth Sciences
- Environmental Studies
- Environment and Toxicology
- Environment and Health
- Agro Environmental Sciences
- Forest Sciences

The top Universities in Canada for studying Environmental Science include:

- University of Toronto
- University of British Columbia
- University of Alberta
- University of Calgary
- McGill University
- McMaster University
- Western University
- Queen's University

Other universities that can be considered include:

- University of Ottawa
- Royal Roads University
- University of Saskatchewan

5. Business

International students wanting to study Business studies can choose from a number of specializations:

- Brand Management
- Operations Management
- Accounting
- Risk Management
- Logistics Management

To make the program more effective, these courses can also be combined with an internship term or work experience. Employment opportunities in these fields are also very high according to Service Canada's projections.

Studying in one of the renowned universities and guided by world class professors creates great networking opportunities for students and enlarges their horizon in terms of approaches on business matters. Business services management encompassing a range of firms including legal, payroll and market research. According to Service Canada's Canadian Occupational Projection System, the labour market has enough job openings to accommodate graduates for the next few years.

Top Universities in Canada to study Business:

- University of British Columbia
- University of Toronto
- McMaster University
- McGill University
- University of Alberta
- York University
- University of Victoria
- University of Waterloo
- Queen's University
- University of Montreal

Other universities that can be considered include:

- Vancouver Island University
- Carleton University
- University of Victoria